

THE SUB-MARINE BOAT

From "FOXY GRANDPA"

Words by ELVILLE BAKER

Music by JOSEPH HART

Moderato

Boys

1. "Tell us the sto - ry, will you please, you start - ed on the
2. "In - side that whale it must have been as dark as dark could boat," "A - bout the o - cean blue, my boys, a - bout the o - cean blue?"

Grandpa

be!" "In - deed it was quite black, my boys, in - deed it was quite black!" "Then

Boys Grandpa

"Not a - bout the o - cean, but the first sub - ma - rine boat!" "A - bout the first sub - where did Jo - nah get a light? Or how could Jo - nah see?" "In - side the whale there

-ma - rine boat, boys? I'll tell you - It dives be - neath the wa - ter and is is a sack of oil, a sack; So Jo - nah took his sou' - west - er and quick - ly out of sight, While un - der there, the cap - tain is al - ways look - ing for scoop'd a hat - full, quick! He then cut his chin - whis - kers off and used them for a fight. There's noth - ing new a - bout these boats, the first was years a - go; y wick. And why he left that boat is told by wise men of re - nown, That Jo - nah was the Cap - tain and the whale the boat, you know.

Jo - nah was a work - ing - man and would - n't be kept down.

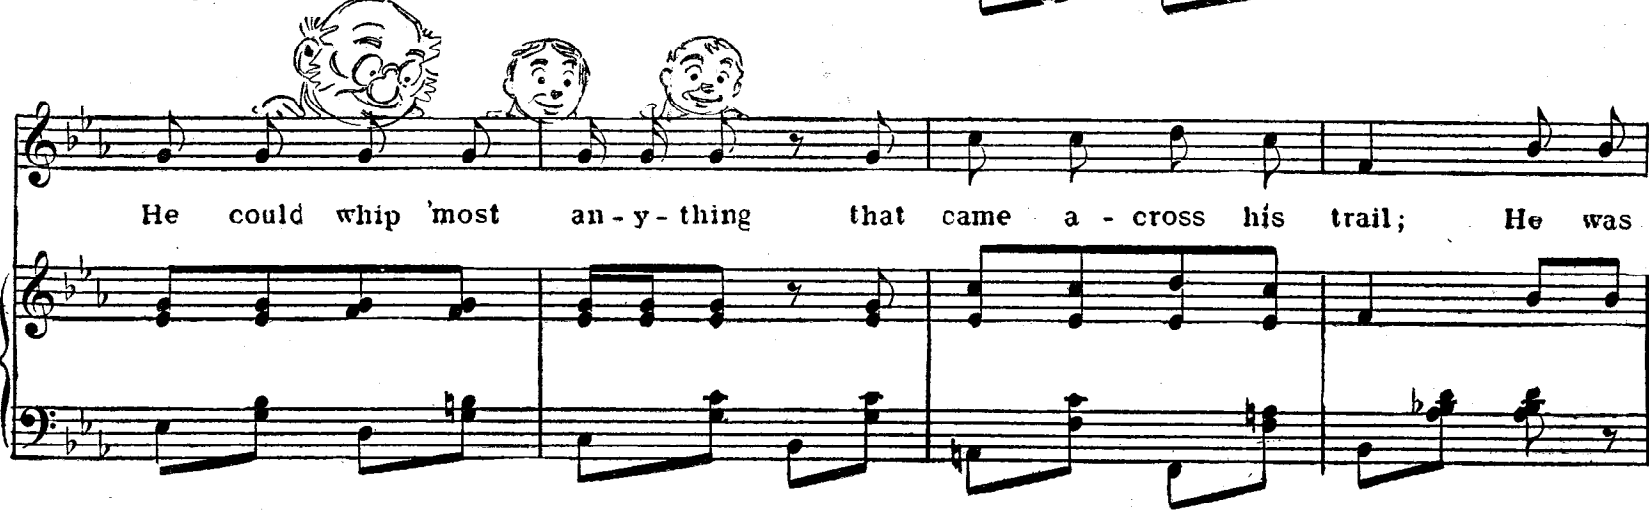

CHORUS

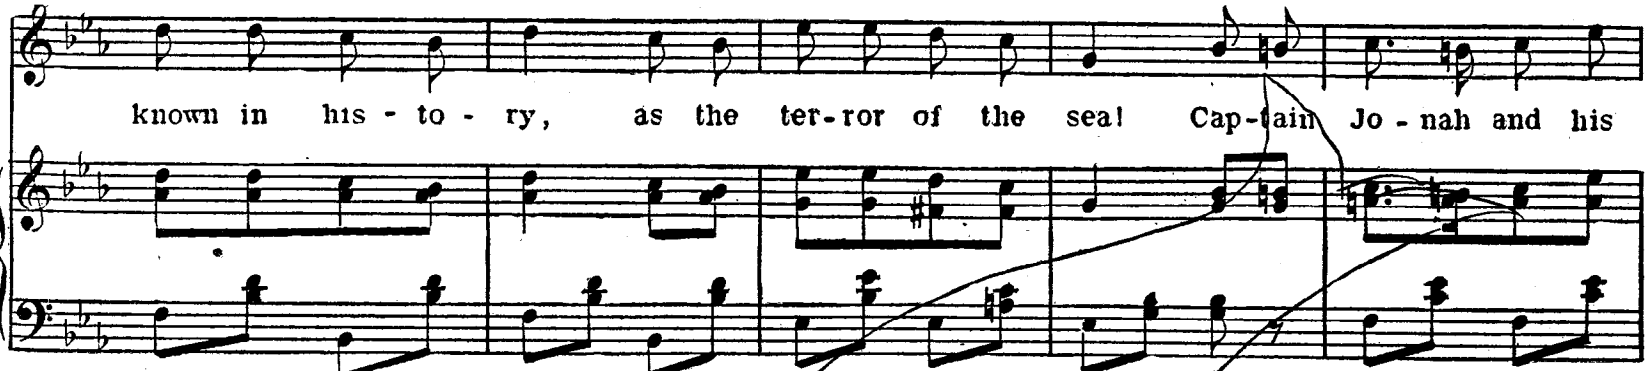

"Jo - nah was the Cap - tain of the sub - ma - rine boat 'Whale!'"

He could whip 'most an - y - thing that came a - cross his trail; He was known in his - to - ry, as the ter - ror of the sea! Cap - tain Jo - nah and his

-sub - ma - rine boat, 'Whale!'" "Whale!'"

