

There's a Girl in this World for each Lonely Boy 3
And I have found mine—Have you?

Moderato.

FOX & KEATING

By JACK FROST

Slowly.

I've been feel-ing bad, I've been feel-ing sad, So Since that hap-py day, love has come to stay, And lone-some, did-n't know just what to do; Oth-er boys have girls, now I know the dear old say-ing's true; Years have made me gay,

some with gold-en curls, Won-der now why I can't find one too?
love did find a way, Since I met those great big eyes of blue.

I looked all a - round, not one could be found
All is bright and cheer, some - one calls me dear,

That would help to cheer my wear - y way, but, Now I'm feel - ing glad,
Some - one makes the shadows fade a - way, so, When you're feel - ing blue,

rall
No more I'll be sad, Since I heard some fel - low these words say.
Cheer up, for it's true, Ev - 'ry - one must find some - one some day.

CHORUS.

Oh, Some - where in this beau - ti - ful world There's a beau - ti - ful girl lives

p-f

too; _____ One so rare, one so fair, there is none can com- pare, And she's liv- ing just for you. _____ Do you know that this break-er of worlds May mean mak- er of worlds for you; _____ There's a girl in this world for each

rit. e cresc.

cresc.

rit. e cresc.

lone- ly boy, And I have found mine, have you? _____ Oh, you? _____

a tempo

a tempo

f D.S.