Down South in Dix - ie a lov - ing cou - ple To - geth - er
It must be so when it comes to lov - in' Those Southern pass'd a gay week end They lov'd to sail and float Up - on an ba - bies sure do know They don't take much de - light Up - on a old steam boat And what a grand old time they'd spend!

moon - y night Their cun - nin' spoon - y way to show.

— Like doves a - coo - in' — They'd start-ed - woo - in' — So co - sy seat - ed
 — It makes 'em wear - y — They aint so cheer - y — As in the sun - light's side by side — Said she "To spoon a - right — We need a gold-en ray — It takes the fun a - way — To have the moon-y night" — Then smil - ing - ly her beau re - plied: — sun a - way — So for a real hot time I'll say: —

Chorus

I like the day - time bet - ter than the night - time — I like the sun - light bet-ter than the moon-light — For when it's time for me to spoon — I'm not a loon to croon By the light of the moon. { I like the day-time bet-ter than the night-time —

I've heard that owls make love in trees at night-time —
I know a man who won a girl at mid-night —

The sun will al-ways give you such a bright time — Mak-ing its ray a per-fect
But chickens know that day-time is the right time — One kiss at noon brings wed-dings
He found that she was mar-ried in the day light — I want to see what's wished on day } I like the day-time bet-ter than the night-time. — I like the —
