

I Wonder if You Know My Heart is Breaking.

Words by FRANK W. STERNS.
Andante moderato.

Music by
ERNEST S. ERDMAN.

1. We part - ed, sweet-heart, you and I, a year a - go to - night, And
2. I wan - der thro' the mead - ow land, where once we used to stray, But just as now the sil - v'ry moon was beam - ing clear and bright; I all is changed and dif - f'rent now that you have gone a - way; The sit and dream of oth - er days when you were al - ways near, And rob - ins do not sing so sweet, the skies are not so blue, The tho' your vows you've bro - ken, to me you're just as dear. If ti - ny lit - tle blos - soms, they seem to miss you, too. The you but knew, my dar - ling one, how ten - der - ly I yearn To days are dark and drear to me, my heart is filled with pain, I see your dear sweet face a - gain, per - haps you would re - turn; At won - der if some fu - ture day we two will meet a - gain? Those dawn, at dusk, I sigh for you, and tho' the wish be vain, My words I spoke at part - ing, now in sor - row I re - call, The heart is sad - ly long - ing to be with you a - gain!..... past for - get, my dar - ling, I love you best of all!.....

REFRAIN.

I won-der if you know my heart is break - ing, And if you knew, I won - der would you care?..... Tho' you're gone, per-haps for-ev-er, For - get you, I can nev - er, If you rallen.

knew my heart was break - ing, I won - der would you care?