I've been a-round the la-dies, the small and grown up ba-bies, From sweet six-teen 'way Their style and way of dress-ing has al-ways kept me guess-ing, Just what they are and up to six-ty - two. The old maids and the cu - ties, The freck-led sweet pa-what they may not be. I dont know how to treat 'em, To love 'em or to toot-ies, I've learned a lot from all of them that's true. Tho' Ill ad-mit they're beat 'em, They sure have made a mon - key out of me. They all seem to keep — simp-ly grand. There's one thing I can't un - der - stand.

 — me in doubt. Wont some-bod-y please help me out.

Chorus

Why do they call— them wild wom-en, wild wom-en, wild wild
 Why do they call— them wild wom-en, wild wom-en, wild wild

wom-en, Where do they find— them, And what do they eat,— I nev-er saw one who wom-en, Do they live home— or live out in a cave,— I nev-er met one who lived on raw meat— So why do they call— them wild wom-en, That's been a puzneed-ed a shave— So why do they call— them wild wom-en, That's been a puz-

- zle to me.— I've tak-en girl-ies out and treat-ed them nice—
 - zle to me.— I've gone to vis-it girls at most ev'-ry age—

The on-ly thing I got was just good ad-vice— So why do they call— them wild
 I nev-er called on one who lived in a cage— So why do they call— them wild wom-en, When they're just as tame— as can be. be.

 wom-en, When they're just as tame— as can be. be.
