To - day I met a col - ored gal named Su - san An - na Gray — She seemed as bright and cheer - ful as the flow - ers in May She said "I love the birds, the skies and the rain - drops that fall, But child you nev - er could — sur - mise what I love best of all.

Chorus

I've gone wild I'm wild a - bout moon - shine, I'm cra - zy 'bout moon - shine, I I've gone wild I'm wild a - bout moon - shine, I'm cra - zy 'bout moon - shine, I mean it makes you spoon-y, — It sets you loon-y — I've gone wild from yearn-ing night and day, And I mean a lit - tle li- quor, — That has a kick-er — I've gone wild from yearn-ing night and day, For I feel like pin - ing when the moon is shin - ing — Far, far a - way, — You get a feel that qui - ver of the Old Green Ri - ver — Fad - ing a - way, — You get a fel-lar who is will-ing, a bench in the park, — Drag the fel - lar, the bench to a cel-lar and a ket - tle, some yeast and some corn, — Lit - tle sug - ar, some rais - ins, and spot in the dark — Let him hug and kiss till he's sa - tis - fied — But al - ways let your con - science boil 'em till morn — Let it stand a week and you'll learn with joy — 'Twill kick you like a jack - ass be your guide — I've gone wild I'm wild a - bout moon - shine, that (Wow) oh boy — I've gone wild I'm wild a - bout moon - shine, that

moon-shine has - made a wild, wild wo - man of me. me.
 moon-shine has - made a wild, wild wo - man of me. me.
